

Cybersecurity UNIX / LINUX Analyst

About the Job

- Secure a broad range of UNIX/Linux operating environments, such as Oracle Solaris, Oracle Enterprise Linux, or Red Hat Linux at all supported versions.
- Provide support of system management tools and methodologies.
- Provide senior level support in cybersecurity best practices regarding system hardening, applying security policies, and reading, creating and understanding technical processes. o Participate in vulnerability management processes including vulnerability assessments, reporting, remediation, and tracking until security compliance is achieved.
- Provide support with risk assessment and monitoring tools, scripting and network communication operations, and software configuration.
- Provide support with applying least privilege principles and access control, possesses strong troubleshooting and analytical skills to resolve complex technical issues, and excellent oral and written communication and organizational skills.
- Support basic project management skills as well as reviewing, understanding and applying technical documents.
- Cybersecurity Tasks
 - Security scans/remediation/compliance reporting
 - Vulnerability assessment/monitoring/reporting/tools o Incident response
 - Audit/inspection support
 - Directives/orders compliance
 - Access control
- Technical Administration Tasks
 - Install/configure/patch/upgrade assigned systems
 - System monitoring utilizing enterprise tools
 - Performance tuning/troubleshooting
 - Application support including application/web administration
 - Account management
 - Backup/recovery
 - Automation/scripting
 - Storage configuration (manage/allocate growth)
 - Monitoring (events, logs, system health)
 - Clustering

Minimum Requirements

- 3 years of relevant Unix System Administration (Oracle Solaris, Oracle Enterprise Linux, or Red Hat Linux at all supported versions)
- Experience/Knowledge of Unix Operating systems including: Oracle Solaris, Oracle Enterprise Linux, or Red Hat Linux at all supported versions
- Eligible for Top Secret Level Clearance under the Department of Defense
- CompTIA Security+
- Position is contingent on a passing a background check and drug screening

About Us

NexOne, Inc. (NexOne) is a small business providing full spectrum IT, Engineering and Logistical Analysis support to federal and local government and private industries since 2000. Headquartered in Clearfield, Utah near Hill AFB, we provide professional services throughout the United States. NexOne has a strong customer base that is constantly growing due to our outstanding reputation. We attribute this reputation to our valued, dedicated and highly-skilled employees. NexOne is all about people, people with the right skills and the right experience to create innovative solutions to challenging problems. If you feel you are this individual, please click the apply button now.

NexOne is an Equal Opportunity Employer offering a comprehensive benefits package.